Newsletter No. 23

Notices for three weeks commencing 28th October 2002

This may be the last newsletter that you receive for at least three weeks, as from this weekend I will be on my honeymoon. Mrs Payne will no longer be Mrs Payne, but will now then be known as Mrs Rushbrook, whilst I will be known as 'skint'.

The winter session

This week marks the start of session 2. My, where has the time gone. It is also a time where I would seriously ask for your patience in bearing with us. We are extremely light on staff at the moment, what with Mr McBride being on holiday, Mr Ward in Training for a new job, Angela and myself on Honeymoon, and Mr Caddies on shift work. The drumming course that I promised will happen, and will start in earnest next week with Mr Collicott.

Please help Mr Cutts and Mr Payne all that you can during this time, and please don't vote with your feet and not turn up. During this period of organisational upheaval., it takes a while for things to get going as well as they should.

Uniform

Finally some items of uniform have turned up, and I will get around to issuing them as soon as I can

Camp

Our first deposit has arrived, but as I doubt that John wants to spend a week in a tent on his own, more deposits please asap...

Football Training.

My apologies to those of you that turned up for training last Thursday. I wasn't aware that the hall floor was being polished. As far as I am aware, football training will continue this week, but listen to the notices that Mr Payne reads out for weekly clarification.

Alan Rushbrook

Officer in Charge – Company Section

P.S. Late news.....

London District BB have changed the date of the London District 5 A Side competition to the 16th November. This clashes with our match against the 1st Barnet.

I have asked the Battalion football convenor to re-schedule the match, so listen to the notices form either Chris Payne or Mr Griffiths as it may come within the next two weeks that at present we aren't playing.

Alan.
