Notices for week commencing 3rd March 2003

Thanks to the boys who turned up and did well at the drill competition on Saturday. Although we didn't win, we came third, it was our first drill competition for a long time and I think that those who took part gained valuable experience for future competitions. As yet I haven't heard the result of the 2 Smartest Recruits section.

Good luck to those who are taking part in the PR games competition in London this Wednesday. To my knowledge we have only ever won this competition once, and a member of that team is the one who has been coaching you for the past 8 weeks. Give it everything you have.

Football

This coming Saturday we have a cup match against Enfield United. We have a pretty good record against these, but don't get complacent. I know that they are smarting over our last match against them and that they are looking to even the score. A crucial match this so play well.

Annual Staff Training Weekend

Most of the Company Section staff will be away this weekend on a training course, so wish us all luck. Obviously transport will be needed Saturday, but with it being a cup match I don't think that will be a problem. Mr Griffiths will be in touch no doubt if necessary.

Church Parade

With only three church parades left of this year, just because most of the staff and I won't be at church that's no excuse for you not to be either. Mr Taylor will be in charge on Sunday, but full attendance from everyone is essential. I know I say this every month, but attendance at Church Parade is part of your membership. Don't let me down.
